

YOUR
2019

ACTION & IMPACT

Our work to create a healthier, more just world is possible because of your support. With you by our side, we work to prove that modern medicine can and should be accessible to all people, no matter where they live.

The data in this report represents PIH's work in 2019 and shows our continued growth, achievements, and programs in 11 countries—before COVID-19 emerged and accelerated all those efforts even further.

PIH continues to provide lifesaving health care to more patients, while supporting more clinicians, community health workers, and global health leaders across the globe. The inspiring accomplishments in this report are a reflection of all that we make possible, together.

1.5 million outpatient visits

Clinicians at PIH-supported facilities around the world see patients and treat everything from HIV and TB to malaria and pneumonia.

58,170 safe, facility-based deliveries

When women give birth at PIH-supported facilities, they and their babies are safer than when giving birth at home.

834,850 home visits

Over 11,700 community health workers supported by PIH provided care for patients and their families.

Thanks to your support,

PIH was able to increase our impact in 2019, meaning more care to families and communities across the globe. Here's a look at some key programs that grew in 2019.

VOICES OF PIH

"If we do think that health care is a basic human right, all of us are responsible for making that happen. When you want something, you have to know what you are ready to give up to achieve your goal. This is the time for all of us to learn from the COVID pandemic, put our hands together, and never forget to care for each other. We are thankful for PIH supporters, who understand that message and have helped us serve our bosses—patients—and deliver care to those who need it most, in Liberia and all over the world."

- Dr. Maxo Luma, executive director of PIH in Liberia

"The burdens our communities and patients face are made lighter because of your support, which allows us to provide lifesaving, high-quality, and dignified care. On behalf of PIH in Malawi and the people of Neno, thank you for sharing your humanity with us."

- Basimenye Nhlema, director of community health, PIH in Malawi

"I've wanted to be a nurse since I was a little girl. Now that I have my degree, I'm working in my hometown and love helping everyone who visits the health center. Thanks to PIH supporters, I can serve my community and am happy no one has to suffer the injustices of poor health."

- Cecilia Gálvez Roblero, nurse with PIH in Mexico

3,400

cancer patients treated or received care

With your partnership, PIH supported the care of nearly 3,400 cancer patients around the world, providing access to lifesaving chemotherapy and critical treatments.

Over

116,400

children received all recommended immunizations

by age 1 in PIH-supported facilities and communities, preventing needless suffering, thanks to your commitment to PIH.

Over

134,600

prenatal care visits

Because of your support, PIH clinicians across the globe ensured expectant mothers remained healthy during their pregnancies.

A YEAR IN PHOTOS

In 2019, we strengthened health systems to provide long-term care—preparing for pandemics we didn't yet know would arrive in 2020. We built facilities that are changing communities and saving lives, supported families in far-flung places, and shared knowledge everywhere we work—from small clinics to our global university. Here's a glimpse of what your generosity made possible last year.

May

The University of Global Health Equity in northern Rwanda welcomes the inaugural class for its six-and-a-half-year medical program. UGHE made gender equity a priority in admissions.

July

Co-founder Dr. Paul Farmer mentors clinicians and medical students on a visit to PIH-supported Koidu Government Hospital in Kono, Sierra Leone.

August

Nurse Nataly Cueva screens a student's health at an elementary school in Carabayllo, Peru.

August

A mother holds her newborn baby at Kay Manmito, the maternal waiting home at PIH's University Hospital in Mirebalais, Haiti. Kay Manmito provides free care for women with complicated pregnancies, premature babies, and more.

October

Clinical Officer Kenwood Kumwenda speaks with 14-year-old Kerefasi Wiliyamu during the boy's diabetes checkup at Lisungwi Community Hospital in Neno District, Malawi.

October

Makatiso Seeiso holds the youngest of her six children, 2-year-old Banele, at PIH-supported Nkai Health Center in Mohale's Hoek District, Lesotho. Banele receives care at the health center, where Seeiso has been bringing him since he was born.